11. Description and Purpose of Project (Limit length to visible area)

We recognize the tremendous strain placed upon students, teachers, parents and the educational system as a whole during this global pandemic. The past 24 months have taught us a lot about education, our children and ourselves. We've discovered virtual learning as a full time educational model and we've learned that students thrive in different circumstances and settings. To go along with an increase in screen time, we've uncovered a new appreciation and need to be connected to the outdoors. COVID has changed the conversation surrounding education and has hammered home the importance for all of us to get away from our screens and get outside. While some have focused on filling in gaps in the traditional classroom, we've taken the approach of improving our outdoor learning spaces. The investment in outdoor areas will not just be great for students, but a tangible benefit for all who visit the area.
