Current Law:

Domestic Terrorism – Generally

Under federal law (18 U.S.C. § 2331), domestic terrorism means activities that (1) occur primarily within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States; (2) involve acts dangerous to human life that are a violation of the criminal laws of the United States or of any state; and (3) appear to be intended to intimidate or coerce a civilian population, influence the policy of a government by intimidation or coercion, or affect the conduct of a government by mass destruction, assassination, or kidnapping.

Hate Crimes

The State's hate crimes statutes are contained in Title 10, Subtitle 3 of the Criminal Law Article, specifically §§ 10-302 (damaging property of a religious entity), 10-303 (obstructing exercise of religious beliefs), 10-304 (harassment or destruction of property), 10-305 (damage to an associated building), and 10-305.1 (prohibition on use of item or symbol to threaten or intimidate).

Maryland Department of Emergency Management

Chapters 287 and 288 of 2021 established MDEM as a principal department of the Executive Branch of State government and as the successor to the Maryland Emergency Management Agency. MDEM is responsible for coordinating the State response in any major emergency or disaster. This includes supporting local governments as needed or requested and coordinating assistance with the Federal Emergency Management Agency and other federal partners. MDEM manages many of the federal grants that fund a broad range of initiatives leading to enhanced protection from and responses to the full range of natural and man-made disasters that could threaten the State's citizens.

The 2021 Joint Chairmen's Report required MDEM to convene a Task Force on Preventing and Countering Domestic Terrorism to determine how to effectively oppose domestic terrorism in the State and to submit its findings to the General Assembly. The 2022 Joint Chairmen's Report required MDEM to hold regular meetings of the task force to determine how to effectively oppose domestic terrorism in Maryland including, but not limited to, countering online extremism while protecting First Amendment rights. The task force must also review domestic terrorism threats from all potential sources and offer suggestions and guidance to MDEM on, among other things, coordinating with federal, State, and local agencies and consulting with the academic community. MDEM submitted its findings and recommendations to the Senate Budget and Taxation Committee and the House Appropriations Committee on December 1, 2022.

Governor's Office of Homeland Security

Established by regulation, the Governor's Office of Homeland Security is responsible for directing homeland security efforts across State government and coordinates with federal and local governments, the private sector, academia, and the public to find solutions that ensure public safety while protecting individual freedoms. Among other things, the director of the office is responsible for advising the Governor on policies, strategies, and measures to enhance and improve the ability to detect, prevent, prepare for, protect against, respond to, and recover from man-made emergencies or disasters, including terrorist attacks. The director is also generally responsible for coordinating homeland security activities within the State and coordinating with federal and local governments. As of February 2023, the office has one staff position.

Fusion Centers and the Maryland Coordination and Analysis Center

Fusion centers are a collaborative effort of two or more federal, State, or local government agencies that combine resources, expertise, or information with the goal of maximizing the ability of such agencies to detect, prevent, investigate, apprehend, and respond to criminal or terrorist activity. Generally, fusion centers receive information and intelligence from a variety of sources and disseminate the information to all levels of government to identify and address immediate and emerging threats.

The Maryland Coordination and Analysis Center (MCAC) is the State's only fusion center and is housed in the Department of State Police. Among other responsibilities, MCAC collects and distributes domestic terrorism intelligence and analysis to federal, State, and local stakeholders and law enforcement agencies.

State Expenditures: General fund expenditures increase by at least $268,938 in fiscal 2024, which accounts for the bill's October 1, 2023 effective date. This estimate reflects the cost of hiring (1) one domestic terrorism unit leader to oversee the office and develop strategies to prepare for, prevent, and recover from domestic terrorism and hate crimes; (2) one planning specialist to coordinate with federal, State, and local agencies in developing and implementing plans related to domestic terrorism and hate crimes; and (3) one analyst to generally support the work of the office. It includes salaries, fringe benefits, one-time start-up costs, and ongoing operating expenses.

Positions	3.0
Salaries and Fringe Benefits	$246,711
Operating Expenses	22,227
Minimum FY 2024 State Expenditures	$268,938

Future year expenditures reflect full salaries with annual increases and employee turnover as well as annual increases in ongoing operating expenses.

MDEM advises that it requires five employees to staff the office as well as additional contractual support to implement the bill. However, the Department of Legislative Services advises that given the expertise of the Task Force on Preventing and Countering Domestic Terrorism (which was formed by MDEM) and the bill's specification of the task force's advisory role to the office, this estimate assumes that three employees will likely suffice and that no additional contractual support is necessary. Should the estimated staff prove insufficient or if the task force is unable to provide sufficient support, MDEM can request additional resources, including staff, through the annual budget process.
