This bill includes employees in bargaining unit G who are classified as teachers or librarians in the requirements under current law that (1) the pay rate for specified employees at the Clifton T. These locations include (1) under current law, at a facility that had a forensic admission rate greater than 75% for the immediately preceding fiscal year or (2) additionally, under the bill, at the Regional Institutes for Children and Adolescents (RICAs) – Baltimore and Rockville. These pay requirements may not be construed to decrease the pay rate of any employee. The bill takes effect July 1, 2024.

Analysis

Current Law: Chapter 576 of 2020 required the pay rate for specified employees at Perkins who were not receiving a forensic pay premium to be at least two grades higher than their pay rate effective June 30, 2020. The pay rate for specified employees in BHA or DDA were required to be equal to the pay rate effective July 1, 2020, for similarly trained, qualified, or licensed employees at Perkins if the employees worked at a facility that had a forensic admission rate greater than 75% for the immediately preceding fiscal year. The Act was not to be construed to decrease the pay rate of any employee.

State Expenditures: The bill expands coverage of existing pay rate requirements for specified Perkins and BHA and DDA employees to include teachers and librarians who are in bargaining unit G or employees who work at the specified RICAs. MDH advises that the bill increases salaries for nine employees by approximately 10%. Thus, general fund expenditures increase by approximately $87,912 and reimbursable expenditures increase by $13,557 in fiscal 2025 to provide pay increases to nine eligible employees. Future years reflect annual salary increases.

Additional Comments: The bill requires pay rate increases for specified employees based on pay rates effective June 30, 2020, and for others the pay rates effective July 1, 2020. This analysis assumes that the bill is not construed to apply retroactively, but to the extent that it is, general fund and reimbursable fund expenditures may increase further.
