Criminal Records – Expungement and Maryland Judiciary Case Search
(Expungement Reform Act of 2025)

This Administration bill (1) alters various statutory provisions relating to waiting periods for the filing of a petition to expunge a conviction under §§ 10-105 or 10-110 of the Criminal Procedure Article; (2) expands the list of misdemeanor convictions eligible for expungement under § 10-110; (3) expands the factors a court must consider for an expungement under §§ 10-105 and 10-110; and (4) prohibits the Maryland Judiciary Case Search from referring in any way to a charge resulting in nolle prosequi with required drug or alcohol treatment, a charge marked “stet” on the docket at least three years previously, and charges of possession of cannabis (in a case with electronic records) if the charge resulted in a conviction that was later pardoned by the Governor. The provisions regarding Maryland Judiciary Case Search take effect January 31, 2026.

Fiscal Summary

State Effect: General fund expenditures for the Judiciary increase by $23,800 in FY 2026 for one-time computer programming. General fund expenditures for the Judiciary and the Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services (DPSCS) may also increase minimally to the extent that an increase in expungement petitions necessitates additional staff, as discussed below. General fund revenues increase minimally from filing fees.

Local Effect: The bill is not anticipated to materially affect local finances or operations.

Small Business Effect: The Administration has determined that this bill has minimal or no impact on small business (attached). The Department of Legislative Services (DLS) concurs with this assessment. (The attached assessment does not reflect amendments to the bill.)

Analysis

Bill Summary:

Eligibility for Expungements – Waiting Periods (Effective October 1, 2025)

Under current law, petitions for expungement under §§ 10-105 and 10-110 are subject to specified waiting periods. Some of these waiting periods begin after the satisfactory completion of the sentence or after the person satisfies the sentence or sentences imposed. The bill replaces these references with “completion of the sentence.” “Completion of the sentence” is defined as the time when a sentence has expired, including any period of probation, parole, or mandatory supervision.

Expansion of Convictions Eligible for Expungement Under § 10-110 (Effective October 1, 2025)

The bill expands eligibility for expungement under § 10-110 to include convictions under § 8-204 of the Criminal Law Article (credit card theft) and § 16-101 of the Transportation Article (driving without a license). Both of these offenses are misdemeanors.

Although the bill also adds convictions for misdemeanor violations of § 8-106 of the Criminal Law Article to the aforementioned list, § 8-106 specifies the classification and penalties (based on the value of the property or services) for charges filed under § 8-103 of the Criminal Law Article (obtaining property or services by bad check). Misdemeanor convictions under § 8-103 are already eligible for expungement.

Factors Courts Must Consider for Expungements Under §§ 10-105 and 10-110 (Effective October 1, 2025)

The bill requires a court to consider the following criteria, to the extent applicable, when determining whether a person is entitled to expungement under § 10-105: (1) the person’s success at probation, parole, or mandatory supervision; and (2) whether the person has paid any monetary restitution ordered by the court in the original proceeding or does not have the ability to pay the restitution.

Among other things, § 10-110 currently requires a court, after consideration of specified factors, to find and state on the record that a person granted an expungement under § 10-110 is not a risk to public safety. The bill adds the person’s success at probation, parole, or mandatory supervision as a required consideration when evaluating the petitioner’s risk to public safety. The bill also requires the court to find and state on the record that the person has paid any monetary restitution ordered by the court in the original proceeding or does not have the ability to pay the restitution.

Maryland Judiciary Case Search (Effective January 31, 2026)

By removing an existing exception, the bill prohibits Maryland Judiciary Case Search from referring in any way to electronic records for charges resulting in a disposition of nolle prosequi with the requirement of drug or alcohol treatment. The bill also prohibits Maryland Judiciary Case Search from referring in any way to electronic records for (1) a charge marked “stet” on the docket at least three years previously and (2) charges of possession of cannabis (in a case with electronic records) if the charge resulted in a conviction that was later pardoned by the Governor.

Current Law:

Expungements

Other than specified court-initiated expungements under § 10-105.1 of the Criminal Procedure Article, to begin the process of expungement, a petitioner must file a petition for expungement with the court under § 10-105 or § 10-110 of the Criminal Procedure Article, which establishes eligibility for the expungement of records pertaining to a criminal charge or conviction. With some exceptions, § 10-105 applies to dispositions other than a conviction, and § 10-110 applies to expungements of convictions.

Expungement of a court or police record means removal from public inspection:

- by obliteration;
- by removal to a separate secure area to which persons who do not have a legitimate reason for access are denied access; or
- if access to a court record or police record can be obtained only by reference to another such record, by the expungement of that record, or the part of it that provides access.

Units of Charges

Pursuant to § 10-107 of the Criminal Procedure Article, if two or more charges, other than one for a minor traffic violation or possession of cannabis under § 5-601 of the Criminal Law Article, arise from the same incident, transaction, or set of facts, they are considered to be a unit. A charge for a minor traffic violation or possession of cannabis under § 5-601 of the Criminal Law Article that arises from the same incident, transaction, or set of facts as a charge in the unit is not a part of the unit. If a person is not entitled to expungement of one charge or conviction in a unit, the person is not entitled to expungement of any other charge or conviction in the unit. This “unit rule” applies to expungements under §§ 10-105 and 10-110.

Section 10-105 of the Criminal Procedure Article

Under § 10-105 of the Criminal Procedure Article, a person who has been charged with the commission of a crime for which a term of imprisonment may be imposed or who has been charged with a civil offense or infraction, except a juvenile offense, may file a petition for expungement of a police record, court record, or other record maintained by the State or a political subdivision of the State, under various circumstances listed in the statute. With specified exceptions, these grounds include acquittal, dismissal of charges, entry of probation before judgment, entry of nolle prosequi, stet of charge, and gubernatorial pardon. Individuals convicted of a crime that is no longer a crime, convicted of possession of cannabis under § 5-601 of the Criminal Law Article, convicted of or found not criminally responsible for specified public nuisance crimes or specified misdemeanors, or who had a conviction vacated due to being a victim of human trafficking (as defined in statute), are also eligible for expungement of the associated criminal records under certain circumstances.

Petitions for expungement under § 10-105 are subject to specified waiting periods, which vary depending on the type of disposition that is the basis for the petition. For example, a petition based on a conviction for specified public nuisance crimes may not be filed within three years after the conviction or satisfactory completion of the sentence, including probation, that was imposed for the conviction, whichever is later. A petition based on a conviction for possession of cannabis under § 5-601 of the Criminal Law Article may be filed after the satisfactory completion of the sentence, including probation, that was imposed for the conviction.

Unless the State's Attorney files an objection to the petition for expungement within 30 days after the petition is served, the court must pass an order requiring the expungement of all police records and court records about the charge. If the State's Attorney files a timely objection to the petition, the court must hold a hearing. If the court at the hearing finds that the person is entitled to expungement, the court must order the expungement of all police records and court records about the charge.

If the court finds that the person is not entitled to expungement, the court must deny the petition. A person is not entitled to expungement if (1) the petition is based on the entry of probation before judgment and the person, within three years of the entry of the probation before judgment, has been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic violation or a crime where the act on which the conviction is based is no longer a crime; (2) the petition is based on the entry of probation before judgment for a violation of § 21-902(a) or (b) of the Transportation Article (drunk driving) and the person, within 15 years after the entry of the probation before judgment, has been convicted of a crime other than a minor traffic violation or a crime where the act on which the conviction is based is no longer a crime or received probation before judgment for a violation of § 21-902; or (3) the person is a defendant in a pending criminal proceeding.

Except for court initiated expungements under § 10-105.1 and unless an order is stayed pending an appeal, within 60 days after entry of the order, every custodian of the police records and court records that are subject to the order of expungement must advise in writing the court and the person who is seeking expungement of compliance with the order.

Section 10-110 of the Criminal Procedure Article

Section 10-110 of the Criminal Procedure Article authorizes an individual convicted of any of a list of approximately 100 specified offenses or an attempt, a conspiracy, or a solicitation of any of these offenses, to file a petition for expungement of the conviction, subject to specified procedures and requirements. An itemized list of convictions eligible for expungement under § 10-110 is shown in the Appendix – Convictions Eligible for Expungement.

Petitions for expungements under § 10-110 are subject to the waiting periods listed below. These waiting periods begin after the petitioner satisfies the sentence or sentences imposed for all convictions for which expungement is requested, including parole, probation, or mandatory supervision:

- Misdemeanor (general): 5 years;
- Felony (general), Second-degree Assault, or Common Law Battery: 7 years;
- Domestically Related Crime (§ 6-233 of the Criminal Procedure Article): 15 years;
- Possession with Intent to Distribute Cannabis: 3 years; and
- Burglary in the First Degree (Breaking and Entering – Theft), Burglary in the Second Degree, or Felony General Theft: 10 years.

If the person is convicted of a new crime during the applicable waiting period, the original conviction or convictions are not eligible for expungement unless the new conviction becomes eligible for expungement.

A person is not eligible for expungement if the person is a defendant in a pending criminal proceeding.

Unless the State's Attorney or a victim files an objection to the petition for expungement within 30 days after the petition is served, the court must pass an order requiring the expungement of all police records and court records about the charge.

If the State's Attorney or a victim files a timely objection to the petition, the court must hold a hearing. The court must order the expungement of all police records and court records about the charge after a hearing, if the court finds and states on the record:

- that the conviction is eligible for expungement under specified provisions of § 10-110;
- that giving due regard to the nature of the crime, the history and character of the person, and the person's success at rehabilitation, the person is not a risk to public safety; and
- that an expungement would be in the interest of justice.

If at a hearing the court finds that a person is not entitled to expungement, the court must deny the petition.

Unless an order is stayed pending appeal, within 60 days after entry of the order, every custodian of the police records and court records that are subject to the order of expungement must advise in writing the court and the person who is seeking expungement of compliance with the order.

Automatic Expungements – § 10-105.1 of the Criminal Procedure Article

Pursuant to Chapter 680 of 2021, beginning October 1, 2021, any police record, court record, or other record maintained by the State or a political subdivision of the State relating to the charging of a civil offense under § 5-601(c)(2)(ii) (related to possession of cannabis) of the Criminal Law Article or a crime other than a violation of the Transportation Article for which the defendant is not required to appear, must be expunged three years after a disposition of the charge if no charge in the case resulted in a disposition other than acquittal; dismissal; not guilty; or nolle prosequi, other than nolle prosequi with a requirement of drug or alcohol treatment.

Maryland Judiciary Case Search

The Maryland Judiciary Case Search may not in any way refer to the existence of records of a charge in a case with electronic records if the charge resulted in acquittal; dismissal; or nolle prosequi, except nolle prosequi with the requirement of drug or alcohol treatment. Pursuant to Chapter 26 of 2022, the Maryland Judiciary Case Search may not in any way refer to the existence of a criminal case in which possession of cannabis under § 5-601 of the Criminal Law Article is the only charge in the case and the charge was disposed of before July 1, 2023.

Background:

2022 Court Decision

In 2022, the Court of Special Appeals (now the Appellate Court of Maryland), held that the Circuit Court for Montgomery County properly denied a petition to expunge a 2008 conviction for theft under $500 when the petitioner was sentenced to supervised probation for his conviction, subsequently violated his probation, and then served a four-day sentence for the probation violation. According to the Court of Special Appeals, even though the petitioner completed his sentence for the probation violation, because the petitioner was originally sentenced to probation and violated that probation (resulting in an unsatisfactory closing of the probation), the petitioner did not satisfy his original sentence. In re Expungement Petition of Abhishek I., 255 Md. App. 464 (2022).

Pardoned Cannabis Convictions

On June 17, 2024, Governor Wes Moore issued an executive order pardoning 175,000 Maryland convictions for cannabis possession, including convictions for misdemeanor possession of cannabis and certain convictions for misdemeanor possession of drug paraphernalia. More than 150,000 of the pardoned convictions were for misdemeanor cannabis possession and more than 18,000 of the pardoned convictions were for misdemeanor use or possession with intent to use drug paraphernalia.

In lieu of the traditional expungement application process, the Governor asked the Maryland Judiciary to identify and compile a list of electronically available case records for convictions based on conduct that occurred prior to January 1, 2023. The executive order indicated that the Judiciary will make electronic notations regarding the pardoned convictions in each identified electronically available case record. The order also directed DPSCS to develop a process to indicate the pardoned convictions on criminal background checks.

State Revenues: General fund revenues increase minimally from filing fees for expungement petitions. The Judiciary charges a $30 fee to file a petition to expunge a conviction. Fee waivers are available for financial hardship.

State Expenditures:

Judiciary

General fund expenditures for the Judiciary increase by $23,824 in fiscal 2026 for one-time computer programming changes to facilitate the removal of references on Case Search in accordance with the bill. Depending on the volume of petitions for expungement received under the bill’s expanded eligibility, general fund expenditures may increase minimally for additional clerks to process petitions. Exhibit 1 contains information on the number of petitions filed in the District Courts and the circuit courts from fiscal 2021 through 2024.

The increase in filed petitions resulting from the bill cannot be reliably determined at this time but is likely to be higher in the initial years (as individuals with eligible older convictions file applications) and then stabilize over time. However, given that driving without a proper license is by far the most common of the convictions affected by the bill (as noted in Exhibit 2), this estimate assumes that any potential increase in judicial staffing expenditures is likely to be minimal. Given the nature of this traffic-related offense, unless an individual is facing hardship because of the conviction (e. g., reduced job opportunities) or has another (more serious) disposition that is currently ineligible because of the conviction, some individuals with older convictions for driving without a proper license may not be inclined to petition for expungement. DLS also notes that driving without a proper license is mostly prosecuted in the District Court, where the Judiciary’s expungement operations are more centralized. For illustrative purposes only, the cost associated with employing a court clerk is approximately $73,000 annually.

The Judiciary advises that while the bill requires the court to consider the petitioner’s payment of restitution in the original proceeding or the petitioner’s ability to pay the restitution, the court is not involved in the collection of monetary restitution payments and has no record of payments of restitution unless the State’s Attorney or another entity provides proof of payment or testifies at the hearing to whether payment was made in the original case.

Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services

General fund expenditures may increase minimally for DPSCS to process expungement orders under the bill. DPSCS advises generally that the Criminal Justice Information System (CJIS) requires one additional administrative employee for every 2,500 additional orders for expungement it receives. However, DLS notes that CJIS has been routinely accommodating workloads beyond the 2,500-caseload standard. Any additional clerical resources that may be needed cannot be reliably determined at this time and depend on the number of expungement orders issued by courts under the bill; however, any potential additional staffing needs are assumed to be minimal. For illustrative purposes only, the cost associated with hiring one administrative employee is approximately $61,300 in fiscal 2026 and $80,600 in fiscal 2030.
