

Thank you for consideration of the Family Law, Fundamental Parental Rights HB1242. I am writing in support as a mother of three children, one with special needs who homeschooled him for 8 years, to let you know how important it is right now for parents to have the freedom to raise, protect, educate and make decisions for them that the government should not impose upon these basic rights. A parent is the closest and most important advocate for a child. I really appreciate you putting forward this important piece of legislation and wanted to show my support for safe passage of this bill.
