

Support for HB0139
Zackary Berger, MD, PhD

Violence is not an effective public policy, yet we allow our police officers to commit violence against the vulnerable, which in turn engenders violence. As a primary care physician I have seen too much violence directed against those who our society abandons, and this has gone on long enough. We must have a statewide use of force policy to limit violence, no matter whether the person committing violence wears a badge and a uniform.