Re: Support of HB 12 - Worcester County – Public Safety – Buildings Used for Agritourism

On behalf of our Farm Bureau member families in Worcester County, I submit this written testimony in support of HB 12, legislation that adds Worcester County to the list of counties that exempt existing Ag structures that are going to be used for agritourism from being required to retrofit the structure with bathrooms, sprinklers, and other high occupancy requirements. This exemption allows up to 50 people in the structure. The structure must still adhere to the structural integrity standards as well as entrance & exit requirements. The counties that are already exempt in current law are: Allegany County, Anne Arundel County, Baltimore County, Calvert County, Carroll County, Cecil County, Garrett County, Howard County, Kent County, Prince George's County, and St. Mary's County,

Maryland Farm Bureau policy defines agritourism as activities conducted on a farm and offered to the public or to invited groups for the purpose of education, recreation, or active involvement in the farm operation. Directly related to this bill, MFB policy reads: We further support the inclusion of specific language in the building code to permit public access to existing, structurally sound, nonresidential buildings without mandated upgrades to the full current codes.

Allowing farms to diversify so they can improve their income generated from the farm, should be Maryland's top priority if there is to be increased financial sustainability for our farms in the future. The cost of producing agricultural crops in Maryland increases every year, yet the price for these commodities remains flat or even in decline for some. The profit margins on agricultural crops are very small and leave very little room for added expenses. The next generation of farmers in Maryland will have to adapt and transition their farms to more profitable crops and practices to be able to remain on the farm. Several of those practices include Agritourism.
