

Given the deeply held pro-life position of many citizens of Maryland, no public funds should be used to subsidize abortion, directly or indirectly.