

Dear Delegates,

I am an elected member of the the Harford County Board of Education, and I’m writing to strongly oppose HB0599 and similar. Depending on your view on virtual meetings during this pandemic, this bill may come across as an attempt to return to a prior normal, or it may come across as just a petty attack on the Harford Board of Education.

The important context for this bill is a small but loud group of people who are angry at the school system. They are primarily angry about Covid safety measures, starting from the original school shutdown in March of 2020, and continuing with the mask mandate and other measures still in place today. To be clear, the objections are to safety measures that have been not just supported by, but sometimes ordered by the state level.

The sponsor of this bill has argued for in-person schooling from early in the pandemic. More recently, he has referred to the Harford Board of Education as being hypocritical (November 17th, 2021; February 10th, 2022) for allowing individual board members the choice of attending board meetings either in-person or remotely. Other members of the Harford Delegation have complained about the “indoctrination of our children” (Jan 20th, 2022) and stated that they don’t believe the board reflects the values of the community (Aug 16th/17th, 2022).

The unity of the board against these attacks is probably why the sponsor hasn’t attempted to work with the board members in creating a bill. Nor were any board members nor other stakeholders invited to the Harford Delegation meeting where this bill was discussed, in sharp contrast to the many stakeholders invited to discuss the liquor bills in the same time frame.

This non-cooperation is not new. In September of 2020, the Baltimore Sun reported this bill’s sponsor said he wanted to work with the Harford BoE concerning in-person learning opportunities. He did not do so. He did publish an unworkable plan in July of 2020 as an opinion piece in the newspaper, and invited the BoE to comment on it, post-release.

I would be happy to expand on any or all of these items.

Sincerely,
David Bauer

Del. Impallaria: “I’m bringing this bill to you now so you have an opportunity to look the bill over prior to having a full hearing on it. So, um, I just think it’s a way that we should go. Would they reject it? They may, because they like having control of our children. I’m sick and tired of the indoctrination of our children.”
